SUMMARY

Product Designer (UX/UI) for B2B SaaS and fintech products where a wrong step costs money or trust. My most recent redesign, a B2B analytics dashboard, cut time to first action by 35% and lifted 30-day retention by 18%, measured in the client's analytics after launch. I work research-first, from user interviews and usability testing to design systems and developer handoff. Before digital, I spent 10+ years designing physical and interactive products, where you prototype early and test before you build.

EXPERIENCE

Product Designer (UX/UI)

Freelance | Remote | Aug 2025 - Present

- Pulse Analytics (B2B analytics dashboard, client under NDA): led a 10-week solo redesign, working cross-functionally with the client's engineering team. Shipped role-based Insight Cards that cut time to first action by 35%, raised feature adoption by 22% and lifted 30-day retention by 18% (60 days post-launch vs. 60 days prior).
- Ran 5 weeks of discovery: 10 user interviews, an 80-user survey, session recordings, heatmaps and a competitive benchmark (Amplitude, Mixpanel, Looker). Found that 48% of users did not know which metric to check first.
- Mapped user flows and information architecture, then prototyped and usability-tested 3 design directions before build. Delivered 17 screens and a 17-component library with WCAG AA text contrast.
- Casado Doces (home bakery, app in use): designed a two-sided ordering app for customer and baker, covering 12 screens and 5 edge states, with pickup scheduling synced to Google Calendar and an 18-component tokenized design system.
- InvestIQ (fintech): onboarding redesign developed from a client brief, targeting at least 60% onboarding completion.
